

WE ARE

so glad you're here!

Grab your coffee (or tea) and pull up a chair, sweet mama! This bundle was curated with you in mind. We have so much we want to share and we are excited that you are here to join us. Inside the Fill Your Cup bundle you are going to find resources to help you practically implement wisdom from God's word and amazing mothers who have been at this for a while.

If you have ever wished you had a tribe of mamas with Godly wisdom at your side, in your corner, and cheering you on, that's just what you will get within this bundle. You don't have to wonder if these women have a Christian worldview - we have vetted them, and they do!

Soak it up, friend. Check out their bios, make personal connections, and let's use these resources to help us cultivate homes of peace, love, and joy as we educate our children.

Fill Your Cup, mama.

Love & light,

Jess & Sarah Ruth

MEET THE CREATORS

Jess Collier

Jess is a former elementary teacher turned homeschool mama of 5 boys, from high school down to first grade. She and her husband of 19 years live on a little homestead in Wisconsin. There you can find her growing and preserving food, sewing clothes, and trying to keep up with the massive amounts of food that teenage boys eat. She's passionate about pursuing Jesus, releasing the expectations of the system, building sustainable life rhythms, and HOME over school. Her blog and business Silo & Sage offers online courses, printables, and a monthly membership to support moms in their home, motherhood, homeschool, and faith.

SarahRuth Owens

SarahRuth is the wife of Jonah and mother of three boys she educates at home. SarahRuth grew up in inner cities but loves the family-centric culture she embraced through marriage. As a public school educator, she saw the breakdown in American families and the dire need for a restoration of family culture through God's Word.

Both she and her husband left the workplace to pursue entrepreneurial endeavors to spend more time as a family and guide their children in the faith. Their passion is to encourage families to do life together as they believe that healthy, godly families are the bedrock of a thriving society. SarahRuth and her family reside at the base of the Appalachian Trail in a small Georgia town where they love to hike, chase waterfalls, and spend as much time together as possible.

MEET THE CONTRIBUTORS

Christina Franco

Christina lives in upstate NY with her husband Seth, and their of 5 children. A former high school English teacher, she felt called to stay home full time, to homeschool, and focuses on balancing cultivating home and chasing adventure with her children. Jada Hite

Jada Hite is wife to her high school sweetheart and mama of three. She is a writer, a content creator, a youth leader, and homeschool mom. She finds joy in equipping women to equip their children. Her desire is to see women confidently making disciples in their homes, and preparing the next generation in these last days. When she isn't homeschooling, you can find her seeking out new hiking trails, ministering to youth, reading too many books at once, and enjoying coffee dates with friends.

Lacee Mueller

Lacee is a homeschool mama of four, adventurer and someone who makes everyday things magical. She is here to encourage you that these really are the days. The guide she contributed came to be after she spent the last decade making everything at home from scratch due to her oldest son's food allergies. She often jokes that it was a blessing in disguise because her family is now healthier and have made some of their most favorite memories in the kitchen together.

Elizabeth Santelmann

Elizabeth Santelmann lives in Oklahoma with her husband and homeschools their three little boys. In her quiet moments, you will find her in her garden with a book and cup of coffee. MEET THE CONTRIBUTORS

Jamie Olson

Jamie is a first generation homeschool mom of three boys. Jamie and her husband Luke have been married for 16 years and their family thrives on adventures in the outdoors! Jamie believes that homeschooling is so much more than books and curriculum so nature plays a big part in her homeschool style. Jamie is eclectic in her approach, using curriculum from many places and resources, books and nature to give her boys a well rounded, Biblical view on life.

Julie Ross

Julie H Ross believes that every child needs a feast of living ideas to grow intellectually, emotionally, and spiritually. As a former public school teacher, Curriculum Coordinator, and Assistant Director of a Homeschool Academy, Julie Ross has worked with hundreds of students and parents throughout her career.. She has also been homeschooling her own five children for the past 20 years. Julie Ross developed the Charlotte Mason curriculum, A Gentle Feast, to provide parents with the tools and resources needed to provide a rich and abundant educational feast full of books, beauty, and Biblical truth. As Certified Christian Life Coach, Julie helps moms find a life of freedom from the negative thoughts and patterns that are holding them back. Julie lives in South Carolina with her family. When she's not busy homeschooling, reading children's books, hiking, or writing curriculum, you can find her taking a nap.

Heather Mills Schwarzen

Drawing on nearly three decades of experience in marriage and motherhood, Heather seeks to encourage fellow Christian women to seek God's will as they serve and nurture their families. She has graduated four of her ten children from her family's homeschool, and continues to cultivate a lifestyle of learning and following Christ on her family's homestead in East Tennessee.
